Introduction to The United Associations of Chinese Alumni in Greater Houston Area

The United Associations of Chinese Alumni (UACA) in Greater Houston Area is a non-profit organization aiming to coordinate all Chinese alumni in greater Houston area for friendship, networking, and culture promotion. It is a union of more than forty Chinese Alumni Associations (CAA) and Chinese Students and Scholars Associations (CSSA) in Houston with more than 7,000 members. It is one of the largest organizations in Houston Chinese Community.

Every year around the New Year time, President Sheng Xu and Vice President Joanna Xie organize a big celebration event to provide a venue for Chinese alumni to gather together with wonderful multi-culture performances and various types of games. In addition, UACA runs the annual Sino-America Career Fair, which is one of the biggest career events in the international community. These events normally attract more than 1,000 people to attend. The most comprehensive and rewarding experiences will be brought to more than 7,000 Chinese students and alumni in the Greater Houston Area.

The event is co-sponsored by all 40+ affiliated associations such as The University of Houston Chinese Students & Scholars Association, The Baylor College of Medicine Chinese Students & Scholars Association, Rice University Chinese Students & Scholars Club, Texas Southern University Chinese Students & Scholars Association, Houston Beida Alumni Association, Houston Tsinghua Alumni Association, Nanjing University Alumni Association.

By organizing this type of event, we wish to promote the multi-culture nature, enrich the friendship among Chinese alumni in greater Houston area, and strengthen the great relationships between China and The United States.
